NOSTALGIA ISN’T WHAT IT USED TO BE OPENING
Friday January 8, 2009
8:00 PM

EXHIBITION
January 8 to
February 13, 2009

LOCATION
1004 MacLeod Trail SE
Calgary, AB

ARTIST TALK
Saturday January 9 3:00PM
Stride Gallery Project Room

Roja Aslani BA (Psych), BFA, MFA, is a Canadian living between Canada and the United Kingdom. Her practice investigates fan culture, fan souvenirs and commercial nostalgia. Aslani has shown in Berlin, Toronto, Kelowna, Vernon, London, Edinburgh, and Tallinn. She has upcoming exhibitions in Victoria and Kelowna.

To read the exhibition text by Gary Pearson please visit www.stride.ab.ca

Image courtesy of Roja Aslani.

This series examines armchair nostalgia—that longing for a past that has never been lived. This can take the form of nostalgia towards past film and fiction. I explore this theme through fan culture, souvenirs, and the fans themselves (for example, Star Trek fans, or “Trekkies”). I ask questions about how fictional nostalgic objects manifest physically, and how they function in reality. I use these quotidian objects as mnemonic aids for my models (non-actors in their own homes). As the model re-enacts the film from memory, I document the temporal act. I present the unaltered photo to the viewer.