/UNSEEN SCENE

Jack Bride's installations embody subtle energies brought forth as physical objects. Living in Alberta has generated these energies in specific forms; the feelings and experiences within sacred sites and regions are truly inspiring. Such places speak at a subtle frequency — a voice of the land, a voice that Bride captures in visual form in his work. With this installation, a psychic landscape is combined with the material world, showing a synthesis of outside and in. Approaching this window, viewers can contemplate their own image reflected and placed within Bride's field of vision.
