Stride has been keeping a secret hoard of wonderful treasures, but in April 2011 we're bringing them out into the open and we're ready to share. Over our 25 years so far, Stride has accumulated a large and diverse collection of print materials. This collection includes exhibition catalogues and monographs from galleries and artist run centres across Canada, artist books and text-based projects from individual artists and collectives worldwide, and miscellaneous wonders too curious to describe here.

In the summer of 2010, we established a searchable, online database and catalogued these materials. LIBRARY LAUNCH is the official debut of our online database and a rare opportunity for us to display the whole collection for public access. We invite you to visit the Project Room to browse, read, and enjoy.
