

END OF ANALOG /LOWELL SMITH

/+15 WINDOW

EXHIBITION

May 1, 2012 to June 30, 2012

OPENING

Thursday, May 17, 2012, 7PM
Refreshments to follow,
location TBA

LOCATION

EPCOR Centre
205-8th Avenue SE
Calgary, AB

/ARTIST BIOGRAPHY

Lowell Smith is a technological artist currently based in Calgary, Alberta. He earned his Bachelor of Fine Arts in 2010 from the Alberta College of Art and Design in Media Arts + Digital Technologies. He enjoys tinkering, building and hacking different types of electronic devices and technologies.

Image courtesy of the artist.

/END OF ANALOG

The end of an era brings new beginnings. On September 1st 2011, the Government of Canada ended analog television (in Canada). The static snowy channel, a familiar image to many of us growing up, is gone. Now dead, the static channel will have a nostalgic value to our generation and will mean nothing to future generations. END OF ANALOG combines an old television with new video capturing technology to present a 3D image of the viewer in the television static, as an homage to what once was.

Canada Council for the Arts

Conseil des Arts
du Canada

